

Hello, Rookies!

A First Year Students Community Meetup — Report

Event Name	Hello, Rookies!
Organized By	TinkerHub SBCE
Date	14 September 2026
Time	08:00 PM
Venue	Online

Event Overview

Hello, Rookies! was a community meetup organized for first-year students by the TinkerHub community of TinkerHub SBCE. The session was conducted as an interactive platform to introduce first-year students to the community and help them understand the activities and opportunities available to them.

The session explained what TinkerHub is and provided guidance on the various activities and responsibilities involved in being part of the community. Students were also introduced to the First Year Reps group and were given an understanding of the roles and responsibilities they would be expected to undertake.

The meetup was designed as an interactive session where first-year students could communicate their doubts, needs, and questions. This encouraged participation and helped students interact with the TinkerHub community in a supportive learning environment.

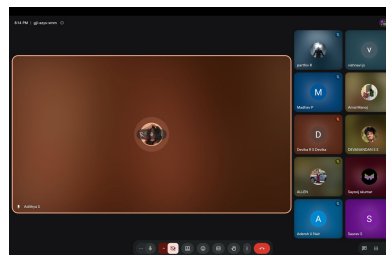

Objectives

- To introduce first-year students to the TinkerHub community.
- To explain the activities and opportunities available to students.
- To introduce the First Year Reps group and explain its purpose.
- To clarify the roles and responsibilities of First Year Reps.
- To provide guidance and support to first-year students.
- To provide an interactive platform for students to communicate their doubts and needs.
- To encourage participation, communication, and collaboration among students.

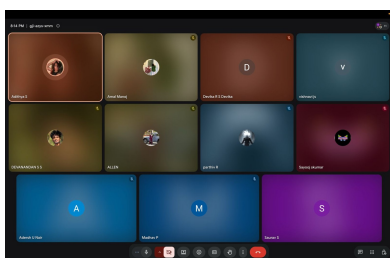

Event Highlights

Poster of “Hello, Rookies!”

Participants attending the Hello, Rookies! meetup through Google Meet

Interactive online session during “Hello, Rookies!”

Participant engagement during the online session

Outcome

The Hello, Rookies! meetup helped first-year students gain a better understanding of the TinkerHub community, its activities, and the opportunities available to them. Participants received guidance about the First Year Reps group and became familiar with the responsibilities associated with it. The interactive session also allowed students to communicate their doubts and needs, helping them gain clarity and confidence about their participation in the community.

Conclusion

The Hello, Rookies! First Year Students Community Meetup was an interactive and informative session that helped first-year students become familiar with the TinkerHub community. The session provided useful guidance about community activities, the First Year Reps group, and the responsibilities of the representatives. It also encouraged students to communicate their doubts and needs, creating a platform for interaction, collaboration, and participation.